

Free Estonian language courses

for Ukrainian refugees with international protection

We offer free Estonian language courses at A1, A2, and B1 levels as part of the Settle in Estonia adaptation programme.

Additional information and registration: settleinestonia.ee

The adaptation programme Settle in Estonia is provided for people who have already arrived in Estonia, plan to stay for a longer time and have lived here for less than 5 years with a residence permit or right of residence – for example, refugees who have been granted international or temporary protection, as well as people who have migrated to Estonia to work or study. We offer language training as well as thematic courses offering information necessary for setting up everyday and/or professional life in Estonia. The adaptation programme Settle in Estonia is free for participants.
